18 Should you wish to provide details of any initiatives that you feel are particularly outstanding, or that have resulted in improved gender equality outcomes in your workplace, please enter this information below. (Please note that any information you provide here will appear in your public report)

Two of our key gender initiatives that were undertaken last year included; a series of focus groups with women across our geographies, and Gender events involving three of our Board members.

Over 150 female employees participated in focus groups across the country to determine what was working well in the Gender space and what we can do differently to improve the progression of women at Stockland. The findings were presented to our D&I Steering Committee, chaired by our CEO and MD. The findings were used to agree some key new initiatives in the Gender area including a Sponsor program and a project team focused on the Development Job Family. Executive Committee members held follow up sessions to share the key themes and the associated actions. This was very well received by our female population and the agreed initiatives are underway.

Our Managing Director and Chief Operating Officer hold roundtable discussions with females at all levels across Stockland. The purpose of these meetings is for them to get to know our female employees and provide them with an opportunity to share their perspectives directly in more informal settings. It also allows our MD and COO to reinforce our commitment to gender equality.

We have a Board (which includes two female) that actively supports our D&I initiatives and progress is tracked as part of our corporate performance scorecard. In November 2013, three of our Board members participate in a lunch with our senior females and members of our ExCo to discuss the complex topic of Gender balance - sharing their insights and market knowledge. Two of these Board members (one male, one female) also participated in a Gender Inclusion panel conversation that was open to all employees. The session was taped and posted on our intranet site for all employees to access. These events were very positively received and have contributed to reinforcing Stockland’s commitment to Gender Inclusion.
