WORLD'S GREATEST SHAVE AT STOCKLAND SHELLHARBOUR RAISES OVER $1,600

Stockland Shellharbour has raised more than $1600 for The Leukaemia Foundation by holding a World's Greatest Shave event on Friday 16 March.

Wave FM Radio hosts Jade and Kiwi Todd were joined on the day by volunteer hairdressers from Just Cuts, Christiane's Hair Design and Hairhouse Warehouse to shave the locks of the brave locals who participated in the nationwide event.

Stockland Shellharbour's Centre Manager, Brett Leonard, who is sporting a new and much shorter hairstyle was proud to be involved.

"It was a small sacrifice to make and we really thank everyone who participated in this event, giving so generously to this very worthy cause" he said.

Councillor Helen Stewart, who had her hair coloured said it was a pleasure to be involved.

"The World's Greatest Great Shave is an excellent way of highlighting the need to raise funds for ongoing research to find a cure for cancer. If you haven't been directly affected you know someone who has."

Proceeds will enable The Leukaemia Foundation to continue cutting edge research into better treatments and cures through its National Research Program. Donations will also go towards providing free accommodation and counselling services to support patients and their families.

According to the Australian Institute of Health and Welfare, approximately 3,200 people per year, or eight people per day, are diagnosed with Leukaemia in Australia.

World's Greatest Shave merchandise is available at Shellharbour Customer Care Centre for the rest of this week.
